WEB DEVELOPER PROFILE

I am a front end developer who enjoys the challenge of translating the ideas and design of a project to a working and accessible site. I studied with Juno College in order to make the industry change from hospitality. My next goal is to further develop my knowledge in front and back end development with on the job experience, and look forward to hearing from your company.

RECENT PROJECTS

Under the Sea [Functionality](Skills: Javascript) - GitHub - Live Link

- This project provided experience using Javascript to manipulate the DOM in order to create a functioning hamburger menu and image carousel on mobile screens.

Under the Sea (Skills: HTML, CSS, SCSS, Responsive Design) - GitHub - Live Link

- Creating a multi-page website from a design with implementation of media queries for functionality on multiple screen sizes. During this project I used a mobile first design strategy, and manual drawing as no mobile design was provided.

One Magazine (Skills: HTML, CSS, SCSS) - GitHub - Live Link

- The purpose of this project was to practice the conversion of a design to a functional website, using mark-up planning techniques to strategize formatting the website through HTML and CSS.
